

END OF QUEEN VICTORIA APPROACHING VERY FAST

Royal Family Has Been Summoned To Be Near Her
When She Finally Passes Away.

SHE IS REPORTED TO BE SINKING TODAY

The Prince of Wales and the Rest of the Near Relatives Make a Hurried Transit to the Queen's Bedside at Osborne

London, Jan. 19.—Rumor was current this afternoon that the queen was dead. Lord Salisbury was seen personally and stated that he had not heard the rumor and placed no confidence in it. Deep public agitation is manifested on all sides, all exdenly summoned from Kensington palace.

The Family Summoned.

London, Jan. 19.—The gravest information comes from a high medical authority at Osborne in regard to the health of the queen. The symptoms czar of Russia bears for her the deepest and sincerest devotion.

Leopold of Belgium writes every week to Victoria asking her advice, and the German kaiser reveres his august relative and is much influenced by her personal wishes.

Wales Inspires No Love.

Nobody expects devotion from the czar or weekly letters from Leopold or adoring devotion from the kaiser when Albert Edward ascends the throne of England.

The queen knows better than any one else the intricacies of the diplomatic web which clogs the policies of the nation. It is not expected that the Prince of Wales can ever learn them. He starts handicapped, and his son will yet be more handicapped, and only the influence of the dead monarch can save the situation.

Birthplace of Conan Doyle.

It may surprise some to learn that Dr. Conan Doyle was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. His parents were of Irish descent and his father was one of four brothers, each of whom distinguished himself.

GREEN COUNTY FAIR PROVES A SUCCESS

W. B. Hawthorne Was Elected President at the Annual Meeting Recently Held at Monroe.

Monroe, Wis., Jan. 19.—At the annual meeting of the Green County Agricultural society the officers were elected as follows: President, W. B. Hawthorne, Monroe; vice president, William Smiley of Albany; secretary, B. G. Treat; treasurer, Andrew Lewis; superintendent, W. A. Nance; directors, J. Bolender, G. T. Hodges, J. B. Treat. Last year the society made improvements to the amount of $2,698.74 in its grounds and the indebtedness of the society is reduced to $3,428.48.

BANDITS ATTACK A RAILROAD TRAIN

Attempt to Loot Baltimore and Ohio Freight Results in Rout of Desperadoes After Fight.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 18.—A gang of twenty bandits attacked Baltimore and Ohio fast freight train No. 94 as it pulled into the siding at Rockwood, forty miles above here, for the purpose of looting. The robbers attempted to force open the doors of the cars, loaded with valuable merchandise, and had cleverly broken several seals, when a force of special officers who were on the train opened fire. Both sides were armed with rifles and revolvers. A miniature battle was fought, many bullets perforating the sides of the cars. A dense smoke prevailed, under the cover of which the robbers escaped, with the exception of one, Joseph Lango, whose leg was shattered by bullets and will have to be amputated. He was removed to Cottage Hospital, at Connelisville. An armed posse, headed by Baltimore and Ohio Special Detective Robert F. Shepard, is scouring the country for the bandits, who have completely terrorized the people of Rockwood.

GERTZ MAY BE THE MONROE SUICIDE

Unidentified Man Who Hung Himself in That City Over One Year Ago.

Monroe, Wis., Jan. 19.—The advertisement of William Gertz of Watertown, S. D., printed in a Janesville paper for information leading to his brother, Jens Gertz, who was also called Tim or Fred, is supposed to lead to the identity of a man known as Charles Gertz who hung himself here a year ago. No trace of his relatives could be obtained and he was buried at county expense.

FATAL WRECK ON ALTON.

Switchman Killed and Five Others Injured at Braidwood, Ill.

Braidwood, Ill., Jan. 19.—One man was killed and five others were injured in a wreck on the Chicago & Alton railroad near the Diamond shaft at Braidwood. The dead: Frank Parmalee, switchman, Braidwood; crushed to death. The injured: E. Ryan, fireman, Bloomington; both legs broken and injured internally; may die. Fred Sweeney, agent for Swift & Company, Chicago; cut about the head. A. E. Miller, jeweler, Braidwood; head cut. Frank Kinsley, conductor, Braidwood; slightly injured. James Parmalee, son of switchman, engineer; slightly injured about head and body. An engine was taking two cars loaded with meat to Coal City, when the engine and cars left the track at a defective switch and were piled up in a heap.

Duc de Broglie Dead.

Paris, Jan. 19.—Duc de Broglie, once prime minister, statesman and author, is dead.

GUILTY OF MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE

McAlister, Death and Campbell, Convicted of Killing Jennie Bosschieter.

TRIAL IS AT AN END

Thirty Years at Hard Labor the Extreme Penalty That May Be Imposed.

THE VERDICT SATISFACTORY

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 19.—A verdict of murder in the second degree was returned against three of the men accused of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, the factory girl. Those convicted are Walter C. McAlister, Andrew J. Campbell and William Death. Under the law of New Jersey they are liable to a maximum penalty of thirty years' imprisonment. On the announcement of the finding McAlister showed more emotion than any of the other prisoners. He had sat biting his lips and shifting nervously during the trial and the verdict was read showed plainly its depressing effect. Campbell thrust his hands into his pockets and clenched his fists. Death looked anxiously about the room for a moment and then assumed the same attitude as Campbell. The jury retired at 3:45 p. m. Fourteen ballots were taken, there being considerable difference of opinion among the jurors as to the degree of guilt of the defendants. A conclusion was reached at 8 o'clock, and the result was announced to the court.

The arguments used by the defense were based almost entirely upon the testimony of the defendants themselves. The principal points they made were: That the meeting of the defendants on the night of the tragedy was accidental and not the result of a preconceived plot; that the mill girl was dissolute in her habits and character, and that if she were killed by poison it was by the poison which she voluntarily absorbed in the form of champagne, absinthe and cocktails.

To account for the finding of the bottle near the rock road, which Prof. Witthaus said contained chloral hydrate, the defense contended that no connection whatever had been shown between this bottle and McAlister, and that bottles in great variety might be picked up any day along the road. The testimony offered by Scutthorpe, the hackman, it was sought to demolish simply by discrediting his veracity. The detectives who had taken down the confessions of Campbell and Death were practically branded as perjurers. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Shaw, summing up for the state denounced the accused, who, he said, had taken the girl out to do her to death like a dog. He demanded that the jury render a verdict as the law and the evidence demanded—"one of guilt in the highest degree."

Then ex-Judge Francis Scott led in the summing up for the defense. He was followed by Michael Dunn. Both declared that no case had been made out against Walter C. McAlister, William A. Death and Andrew Campbell. Mr. Scott made a point that if Scutthorpe's story were to be believed at all he should be a prisoner accused of participation in the crime. Mr. Scott was arguing that the state had failed to prove its first count, that of assault, when Judge Dixon interrupted him, saying:

"Before you proceed I want the jury to understand that if chloral were given, or if a person were struck or choked in order to accomplish the assault, the poison or violence is a part of the assault. The jury must not be misled on that point." Counsel for the defense declared that it had not been proved that chloral was administered to the girl. It had not been proved that any of the defendants had purchased chloral or that the bottle found near the dead girl belonged to one of the prisoners. They declared that none of the medical testimony offered had shown that the girl had been assaulted.

MILWAUKEE IS WINNER

Normal Team Victorious in Whitewater Debate—Two Judges Give a Majority Decision.

Whitewater, Wis., Jan. 19.—By the vote of two against one for the negative the Milwaukee Normal debating team won from the Whitewater normal last night. Every speaker showed excellent preparation and the delivery was also good. The teams were on a par as to excellence.

Fatigue of Metals.

Metals get tired as well as human beings. Telegraph wires are better conductors on Monday than on Saturday on account of their Sunday rest, and a rest of three weeks adds 10 per cent to the conductivity of a wire.—Medical Age.

EXPLAINS THE NEW CODE.

Worcester Tells of Changes Made at Meeting in Manila.

Manila, Jan. 19.—The public discussion of the general code of government for municipalities began here. Commissioner Dean C. Worcester outlined the bill and explained the changes from the general orders of the military governor, under which may local governments were operating. Commissioner Worcester offered two amendments, disqualifying from voting and holding office men who violate their oath of American allegiance or who remain in armed opposition after February. The commissioner elucidated the taxation features, referring to the benefits of taxing lands and buildings as against the present special taxes on occupations and industries. One-fourth of 1 per cent of the proceeds of real-estate assessments will be devoted to public schools. Municipal councils are authorized to license theaters, places for liquor selling, public conveyances, hotels and cock fighting, or to prohibit cock fighting, for the first year, until the tax collections are available. Half of the internal revenue of each municipality will be paid into the municipal treasuries.

TYPHOID FEVER IS RAVAGING ASHLAND

An Epidemic Which is Charged Solely to the Impurities of the Water Supply.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 19.—An outbreak of typhoid fever in this city that was first noticed about ten days ago is adding new cases to the list and the disease is fast assuming the features of an epidemic. The startling prevalence of the disease is attributed solely to the impurities of the water supplied by the Ashland Water company, which company has its main offices in Boston. The hospitals, all commodious buildings and three in number, are crowded to the very corridors with fever patients and numerous houses of the city have from one to two cases.

At a meeting of the city council last evening the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved by the mayor and common council of the city of Ashland, that the city attorney be and he is hereby instructed to take the necessary steps to have the franchise of the Ashland Water company forfeited, and he is directed and authorized to apply to the supreme court for leave to bring necessary proceedings at once."

RECOVER THE PLUNDER

Monroe Officer More Successful in Pennsylvania Than He Expected to Be.

Monroe, Wis., Jan. 19.—Ex-Sheriff John Gardner writes from Pennsylvania that he has recovered a good share of the funds which George Zimmerman embezzled from the Klaas estate, including horse and carriage, piano and jewelry, which Zimmerman gave to the young woman of that state of whom he became enamored. The amount recovered is not stated except that it is more than he expected to get.

RATES ON RAILROADS

Commissioner Rice Recommends Repeal of the Laws Establishing Maximum Rates.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 19.—State Railroad Commissioner Rice in his report which is out today, recommends the repeal of the laws fixing the maximum railway rates which may be charged in this state by the railways for transportation, and the enactment of a law giving the railroad commissioner power to establish maximum rates according to the circumstances in each case as it arises. Mr. Rice says that the existence of a maximum rate law, such as the 3-cent law, might be an obstacle in the case the commissioner sought to regulate rates for the benefit of the public.

MAY BRING DISASTER TO VENEZUELA

United States May Have to Use Force to Bring on Stability in South America.

Paris, Jan. 19.—The Venezuelan troubles are beginning to attract attention here. The Figaro remarks:

"The wider it extends its economic influences in the Antilles the more the Washington government becomes dangerous to those countries on the brink of revolution. The best policy for the South American republics is to imitate Mexico show that governmental stability is not characteristic of Anglo-Saxon nations alone."

The Liberte declares that Venezuela is responsible for the present crisis in her relations with Washington and adds:

END OF BUSY WEEK FOR LEGISLATURE

Bills Introduced in Assembly 33, Senate 16, and 12 Resolutions.

PRIMARY ELECTION BILL

New Congressman Will Not Be Taken from the State at Large.

LOBBY FOR THE CIGARETTE

Madison, Wis., Jan. 19.—The second week of the Wisconsin legislature has come to a close, and this is the score: Bills introduced: Assembly 33, senate 16. Bills passed senate 2. Resolutions introduced: Six in each house. Joint resolutions introduced: Assembly 5; senate 12. But all of the committees have been appointed and next week the work will begin in earnest. Both houses adjourned until Monday night.

No Congressman at Large.

One bothersome matter was fixed up yesterday. The senate and assembly finally agreed upon representation on the joint apportionment committee which this winter will have the hard task of forming new assembly, senatorial and congressional districts. With a congressman added to the state's quota the job will be exceedingly difficult, as all the old lines will be wiped out. It is now generally conceded that the new congressman will not be taken from the state at large.

Primary Election Bill.

E. Ray Stevens, the Madison assemblyman, who is a close friend of Gov. LaFollette's is hard at work on the primary election bill, the subject of which was LaFollette's strongest campaign document. It is expected that the bill will be ready for the introduction Monday evening. The measure will be drawn on the lines laid down in the governor's message and will have practically no opposition in the assembly. In the senate it is likely to strike some snags, but a caucus reform bill of some sort will be passed.

May Bounce Anderson.

A Madison rumor says that Nils P. Haugen will succeed W. J. Anderson as tax commissioner. Colonel Anderson has made an able and faithful official, and from his study and investigation of the tax problems was especially adapted for the work. But it has been expected all along that Governor LaFollette would displace him for another man.

Colonel Anderson took an active part in the campaign of two years ago, as the private secretary of Governor Scofield, and some of the bitterness of that struggle is said to linger about the capitol.

To Honor John Marshall.

A communication was received from Justice Winslow of the Supreme court notifying the members of the assembly and the senate of the approaching 100th anniversary of Chief Justice John Marshall. The communication announced that Judge Bunn would preside at the local celebration and that Prof. Howard L. Smith of the University of Wisconsin law department would read a paper. The use of the assembly chamber was granted for Monday morning at 10 o'clock on Feb. 4. Both houses were invited to attend.

Lobby for the Cigarette.

The fight on the anti-cigarette bill which Assemblyman Overbeck introduced in the assembly during the past week, will begin next Wednesday at 2 o'clock, when representatives of the American Tobacco Co. will try to convince the members of the legislature of the injustice of the measure.

Kennedy's Athens and Ramona wafers at Dedrick Bros.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

tra papers are eagerly bought. Special prayers for the queen's recovery will be offered in all of the churches tomorrow.

Kaiser Off to England.

London, Jan. 19.—The Exchange telegraph company hears from an official source that Emperor William is accompanying the Duke of Connaught to Osborne.

The Queen is Suffering.

Osborne, Jan. 19.—At noon the following bulletin was issued: "The queen is suffering from great physical prostration accompanied by symptoms which cause grave anxiety."

Cowes, Jan. 19.—The queen is perceptibly worse this morning.

A Stroke of Paralysis.

Manchester, Jan. 19.—The Post says that the queen had a slight stroke of paralysis Christmas week.

Family Gathering Quickly.

London, Jan. 19.—All of the queen's children will be with her tonight except the Duke of Connaught, who is at Berlin, and the Dowager Empress Frederic. The duke of Cambridge left Paris this morning.

Better Early This Morning.

Cowes, Jan. 19.—The queen passed a good night and is slightly better this morning.

London, Jan. 19.—The Prince of Wales, who expected to go to Sandringham today has changed his plans and will leave on the forty for Osborne. The departure of the royal train was delayed to allow the Princess Louise to travel with the Prince to Osborne. The Princess was suddenly summoned from Kensington palace. The queen is mortal. This simple truth has come almost as a melancholy revelation today to the British people. Her reign has been so long and her hold upon the affections of every one of her subjects has been so strong that she has become in the popular heart the personification of the enduring empire over which she holds sway.

But today the subject has been forced upon them. The alarming rumors of the past two or three weeks have given place to knowledge, only too well authenticated and it is impossible longer to deny that her majesty is seriously ill.

When the queen dies the greatest personal influence of the age dies also. She stands as the head of the great family of European monarchs and even those not directly related to Queen Victoria have always been accustomed, before they came to their thrones, to see her seated firmly at the head of the British empire. To all European monarchs she has been counsellor, guide and friend. The

ROOSEVELT WAS TREED BY WOLVES

Vice-President Elect Kept Prisoner by the Voracious Animals Four Hours.

Meeker, Col., Jan. 19.—According to reports from the Keystone ranch where Gov. Roosevelt and his party are hunting, Teddy was treed last night by a pack of hungry wolves. The chief executive of New York got separated from his party towards evening. In the gathering darkness he saw the shaggy form of a gray wolf outlined against the sky on a ridge fully 300 yards away. It was too dark for accurate aim, but the bullet from his rifle wounded the beast and sent him limping and yelping over the brow of the hill. Colonel Roosevelt followed on the run.

He found the tracks of the animal, showing that its leg had been broken. A light snow had fallen the night before and the bloodstained footprints were easily traced.

The hunter was already far from home and in the excitement of the chase had lost his direction. However he had no thought of danger until he noticed that the yelping of the wounded wolf was answered by others. These gray wolves are twice as large as coyotes and dangerous when in numbers. Colonel Roosevelt kept away from the thickets and brought down several of the brutes when they came too near. Finally it became too dark for anything but haphazard shooting, and, as the country seemed alive with wolves, Colonel Roosevelt climbed a tree and in doing so he lost his cartridge belt. There the party who had gone out in search of him found him after he had been gone for four hours. Under the tree were a half a dozen wolves that he had killed with his revolvers. The others were soon scattered by the dogs.

NOTES FROM THE CUB WOMEN

The New York Club women are planning an excursion to Mexico. The train will be in charge of a competent guide and will stop at many of the larger cities for rest and entertainment from the local clubs. Any club woman is eligible.

Six babies appeared on the platform of the Chicago West End club last Friday and the president had to talk rather loud at times in order to be heard.

Mrs. Sherwood, of Chicago, who is pushing the work of art in the public schools, is quite enthusiastic over the work done in Milwaukee in the school-room. She says that the walls are all colored artistically, the black boards dark green, and soft green holland shades temper the light of the windows. Then, wonder of wonders, the floors are scrubbed twice a week and surely such a foundation of cleanliness and color is a good beginning for the pictures and casts that are gradually being brought into the rooms.

The Elgin women's clubs are preparing to erect a club-house of their own. They have literary days, travel days, musicals and lectures. They have secured Prof. D. D. Mayne for a lecture on domestic art and manual training in the near future.

Mrs. James Forest spoke before the Forest Woman's club on Tuesday on the different bills to come before the Illinois legislature this session. These women may be able to give their husbands pointers on these matters before the season is over.

From a member of the committee of the Beloit "Trip Around the World," we learn that the enterprise netted about $150. But the best results were felt from the good fellowship and sociability engendered. It seemed as if the whole town was given over to friendly greetings. Many of the callers went about dressed in costume and the "Little German Band," "Innocents Abroad," Brigham Young with family, Oom Paul Kruger, and many others enlivened the occasion.

The Post Parliament Club of New York city held a mock senate last week in which Senators Hanna, Hawley, Platt, Dewey and others were represented by noted club women. Pres. McKinley was also present by proxy and made a very forcible speech. The Athena class met on Wednesday. The Hanoverian period from 1714 to 1900 was the subject of study. This included many interesting topics; the life and character of Geo. I., the English Cabinet system, Robert Walpole and his policy, the South Sea Bubble, Swift and his Gulliver's travels and Lady Montague and the prevention of small pox. This period may be called the beginning of New England.

The new history club is christened the "Matheon," and lest the careless public should not recognize the full significance of their title they announce the meaning of the word as the learners. They met with Mrs. Andrew Pond with Mrs. Coleman as leader. The subject was the English fecundization of America. Mrs. Hattie Howe treated of the reasons for colonization of America. Mrs. Hattie Gilbert, Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Francis Drake. Mrs. Murdoch substituted for Mrs. Skelly on Virginia, its soil, people and religion, and the London company who assisted emigration. Mrs. Thayer read a paper on Maryland, its proprietors and the Claybourne rebellion. Mrs. Gilkey had the Carolinas with its troubles between the government and the people, and Georgia, with Oglethorpe and the English poor, while Mrs. Thorp had the general subject of the social and economic conditions in the south, including slavery, servants, etc.

The Art League met yesterday with Mrs. Ashcraft, as it was the history section Mrs. Mills presided. Mrs. Kimberly secretary. Responses to roll call brought out many interesting facts. Mrs. Tanberg spoke of the conspiracy of the Pazzi which was an attempt to rid Florence of the Medici family. Mrs. Tarrant analyzed the character of Lorenzo the Magnificent in a thoughtful paper. If Florence were to have a tyrant it could not have found a better or a pleasanter one.

He kept the spirit of liberty lulled into quietude with the pleasures he provided. Mrs. Thompson read a paper on the brother, Gianlino who was killed in the conspiracy of the Pazzi, a handsome youth, but unimportant to history. Mrs. Woods read some selections from Stoddard's lectures on Florence.

The morning there will be a baptismal service and reception of members in to the church. Class meeting at 9:30 a. m. 12 m. Sunday school. 4 p. m. special junior league service. 6 p. m. Epworth League service. The evening service at 7 o'clock. Special music by the male quartet. Be sure and hear Rev. Whitcomb.

Court Street M. E. church—Rev. Walter A. Hall, pastor. Praise service 10 to 10:25 a. m. Morning subject: Our Debt to Humanity. Evening theme Asleep and Awake. Prayer and consecration service at 3 p. m. Other services as usual. S. S. and class at 12 m. No. Junior league. Epworth league at 6 p. m. Evening service at 7 p. m. This service will be evangelistic. All are invited to any or all of our services.

First Baptist Church—E. A. Hanley supplying pastor. Services both morning and evening. Morning service at 10:30. Evening service at 7. Sunday school at 12 m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. All welcome.

First Church of Christ Scientist—Services are held in Phoenix block, West Milwaukee street. Sunday, 10:30 a. m.; Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Sunday topic, "Truth." Sunday school, 12 m. Reading room, same address. Open daily 2 to 4 p. m. except Sunday.

Trinity Church—Holy communion 7:30 a. m. Late morning service and sermon 10:30. Sunday school and bible class 12 m. Evensong at 7:30 p. m. Rev. J. A. M. Richey, rector.

St. Mary's Church—First mass 8:30 a. m., second mass, 10:30 a. m.; evening devotion, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school, 9 a. m. Rev. Wm. A. Goebel, pastor.

St. Patrick's Church—First mass 7:30 a. m.; second mass 9:00 a. m.; third mass 10:30 a. m. Evening devotion 7:30 p. m. Rev. E. M. McGinnity, dean. Rev. J. J. Collins, assistant.

The Congregational church—Robert C. Denison, Pastor. Morning service at 10:30 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor on the Creative Power of Christ and the Stimulating Influence of His Spirit. The church Bible school at 12 m. with classes for all ages. The school is just beginning the study of Old Testament history. The Young Peoples' Meeting at 6 p. m. At this meeting a number of pictures on the life of Christ will be shown with the stereopticon. The seven o'clock evening service will be omitted this week.

Hits a Popular Chord. Editor Gazette—The editorial on "Spitting Contest" in The Gazette of last evening hits a popular chord. If the article will have any effect towards getting a move on the officers of this city toward eradicating the filthy nuisance, your paper will then have earned the gratitude of all clean, good people. Committing a nuisance is a violation of common law, and any person expectorating on the public sidewalks, subjects himself to prosecution under that law, and we believe any court of justice is competent to define a nuisance.

Loafers on the various principal corners, congregate at various times, in more or less numbers, spitting on clean walks. It is an offensive nuisance. As we understand the law, loafers are not allowed to congregate at any particular place, and it is unquestionably the duty of the marshal or assistant to order them to move on. Loafers, like sin, may always be with us, but their behavior should be modeled on the lines of propriety.

Much of the spitting and expectorating in public places, may, charitably, be attributed to thoughtlessness. The police force are competent guardians of the public welfare, but of numbers insufficient to meet all requirements. Let them be instructed to work on the new lines, and the evil referred to may be lessened or fully eradicated.

Janesville, Jan. 18, 1901.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Carmen," the tragic love romance which afforded Bizet his theme for one of the most tuneful as well as most popular grand operas ever written, has also been made into a play by several dramatists. The latest version, which is said to be the best, will be presented in this city by Miss Eugenie Blair in the near future.

"Herrmann the Great" is now on his fourth annual tour of America. His business is simply enormous. Everywhere he has been greeted by audiences who crowded the theater to the doors. Of all the successful tours of this remarkable man the present tour has proven a record breaker. His business has been limited to the capacity of the different theaters wherein he appears. Artistically, the program offered by Herrmann the Great is the best ever placed before an American public.

It is difficult to imagine how Lewis Morrison's perfect production of "Faust" could be improved upon, and yet this season finds it surrounded with so many new spectacular effects of a electrical and mechanical nature, to say nothing of the pretty tints and colorings given the new scenery, that the play which has so long been before the public as one of the foremost and best productions, comes to us almost new.

There was never any character like Sherlock Holmes on the stage before and probably never will be again. Mr. William Gillette has exhausted the possibilities of Dr. Conan Doyle's ideal hero detective and the pace he makes could not be maintained by any other. Melodrama has received a new impetus since the success of "Sherlock Holmes" has proved that swiftdom enjoys that style of play quite as much as it does any other if only well done.

Handsome Taffeta Skirt.

A black taffeta skirt displayed at one of the big stores today shows a marked departure from the earlier styles. The taffeta has the hem-stitched open work stripe. The skirt is cut in circular shape and is made with a firm lining. About eight inches from the bottom a full ruffle, five inches deep is placed. The ruffle has several tucks that give the appearance of cording, and it is edged with a ruche cut on the bias with raw edges. The skirt is deeply faced with the silk and is edged with the ruche. Above it is another ruche, not far from the point where the ruffle ends. The effect was very chic and elegant. It is said a feature of the new trimming is the ruche with raw edges.

Presbyterian Church Ladies.

The ladies of the Presbyterian society, to the number of fifty or so, spent yesterday afternoon in the social rooms of the church, partly for the purposes of general sociability and partly for work. At the Christmas sale quite a number of orders for different kinds of sewing work were received, which, with the articles for the Easter sale, will furnish occupation for two afternoons each month, as is the plan. Comforters, handkerchiefs, sofa pillows and drawn work are to be made. The ladies remained while the light was good and before leaving were served with light refreshments.

Officers of Diamonds.

New York, Jan. 19.—United States Marshal Alcott of the New Jersey district has formally seized in this city $17,600 worth of diamonds which were brought into this country by Antonio Ansenias without paying duty on them. The goods were found on Ansenias' person by United States custom officials as Ansenias was leaving a steamer of the Hamburg-American line at Hoboken. Ansenias was not arrested, but the diamonds will be held pending a decision by the treasury department as to whether he is guilty of smuggling. His defense is that he is a Cuban merchant and that he is merely passing through this country on his way to Cuba.

Outlaws Shoot a Banker.

Wichita, Kas., Jan. 19.—A dispatch reached here giving meager details of the holding up of the Bank of Bristow by outlaws. The president of the bank was shot five times and mortally wounded. The robbers got away with the bank's cash, but a posse is in pursuit. Bristow is a small town in Indian Territory, east of Guthrie.

Salt Rheum

It may become chronic. It may cover the body with large, inflamed, burning, itching, scaling patches and cause intense suffering. It has been known to do so.

Do not delay treatment. Thoroughly cleanse the system of the humors on which this ailment depends and prevent their return.

The medicine taken by Mrs. Ida E. Ward, Cove Point, Md., was Hood's Sarsaparilla. She writes: "I had a disagreeable itching on my arms which I concluded was salt rheum. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and in two days felt better. It was not long before I was cured, and I have never had any skin disease since."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Promises to cure and keeps the promise. It is positively unequalled for all cutaneous eruptions. Take it.

"CHARITY SUFFERETH LONG."

In a lowly home in the outskirts of a city a sad-eyed, weary-faced woman sat at twilight, with her little flock about her, waiting for the coming of the husband, yet dreading to catch the first unsteady footfall, and saying in her heart, "How long, Oh Lord, how long?" John had been a little reckless in his youth. He was a hale fellow, well met, with the boys and a social glass now and then was perfectly harmless. If he had to be carried home occasionally he never reached the point where he thought he couldn't reform at any time, and sowing wild oats was necessary to well developed young manhood.

He was free hearted and open handed, full of generous impulses, and when he courted Mary, the nicest girl in town, no one was surprised that he won her heart, with all the wealth of love that she possessed. The courtship was watched with many risings, but love is blind and very forgiving, and Mary entered upon the new and changed relations of life, confident that she could hold him by her strong and loving presence.

The new home was established and was the brightest spot on earth to the man and woman who had consecrated their lives to each other in the holy bonds of wedlock. The first baby came and helped to cement the lives of father and mother, until the union seemed complete, and Mary's heart was singing all the day, inspired by maternal love and wifely devotion. The home was a happy home, full of promise for a bright future, with not a cloud to dim the vision, and the years went by until the little family circle was enlarged to make room for four little people that came into it. The mother expanded to take them all in, and her busy life was devoted to their comfort and happiness.

John, perplexed with care and increased burdens, unfortunate in business ventures, found the home with its little nursery a trifle irksome at times, and old associations more inviting, and without meaning to neglect the treasures, he unconsciously drifted away from them. Old habits asserted themselves, and an appetite, long held in check, clamored for drink, and very soon gained control.

Mary was quick to detect the change and with every art known to the loving wife, attempted to hold him, but the appetite was strong, the will was weak, and love in the balance counted for but little. The tide against him was rapid and John found it easier to drift than resist, and in a few short months manhood was sacrificed, sensibilities deadened, and a moral and physical wreck was all that was left of the husband and father.

The years went by and the children, deprived of a father's counsel and support, turned to the mother, with increasing love and solicitude. All too early the burdens of life were forced upon them, and its responsibilities soon engulfed them. One by one they left the little home with a "God bless you," from the mother who was fighting an unequal battle. At forty she was old in experience, and old in sorrow, but her love for John was just as strong, as when she stood at the altar and pledged her faith to him. With a hope that was sublime she stood by him with wifely loyalty, when confidence from every other quarter was long since destroyed.

There are many Mary's in the world, not all with drunken husbands, but living lives of suffering and sacrifice because the man who promised to be faithful and loyal back in the days of girlhood, has forgotten the vows and disregarded the promise.

They do not belong to the class who aspire to be "new women" or to the class who throw the divorce courts because of incompatibility, but to the larger and better class of home keepers and life-long lovers. "The tie that binds" means more to them than a ritual, or marriage ceremony, because it is the golden cord of love, not easily broken.

Tell them John is dishonest; they don't believe it. That he is a defaulter; they say "No," he wouldn't be guilty of a deed like that." Prove his crime and look him up to pay the penalty, and the loving heart is still loyal, protesting his innocence.

Accuse him of infidelity and you insult her. If he drinks to excess, she excuses him, and all because of the God-like love that "suffereth long and is kind."

The finest types of heroism are among this class of women, to be found in every community. Women whose lives are so quiet and unostentatious, that their presence is hardly recognized, yet fulfilling a destiny prompted by holy aspirations, and God-like sympathy.

"Charity suffereth long," and the world is all too destitute of charity. It is so much easier to resent than to forgive that too many lives are devoted to resentment. There is a world of room for charity in the home, and if it was exercised until its presence was distinctly felt, the world's home life would be wonderfully transformed. There is also a broader field than the home, where charity is none too common, and that is the field of human endeavor, where every man and woman is fighting the battles of life, and where the struggle is not evenly divided.

When the spirit of the Master fills the hearts of humanity, the world will appreciate as never before the "charity that suffereth long and is kind."

MR. COE AND THE LAW.

The discussion now going on between E. D. Coe and two or three newspapers in the state is interesting, and a little amusing. Mr. Coe takes the ground that the people have not been asked for an opinion on the proposed primary election law. That the Milwaukee convention did not represent the people, or a majority of republican sentiment on the question. That the state is not suffering for the adoption of the law, and that time should be given for full consideration and for popular expression before the bill is passed.

The papers, in answering Mr. Coe's arguments, contend that the convention that adopted the plank was representative, that a primary law is demanded, but that the proper time to discuss it is after it is formulated. The papers are right so far as the time for discussion is concerned, and the press of the state will refrain from discussing until they have something tangible to discuss.

There are always two sides to a question and the primary law is no exception to the rule. Mr. Coe is on the outside, realizing that while a convention of a thousand men voted unanimously for a measure, that it would have been easy to have assembled a thousand men of equal intelligence to have voted unanimously against it, if the proposed law had been the issue. The papers in question contend that it was an issue, the same as free silver was an issue in the Bryan campaign, and there you have it.

The Wisconsin legislature is not assembled for the express purpose of adopting or rejecting a primary law. The state will survive and prosper, either with or without it. The question is a political question, pure and simple, and the object of its promotion is in the interests of pure politics and better government as they understand it. The legislature can afford to dispose of state business before taking up the primary law, and when the measure comes before it, plenty of time should be given for the most liberal discussion. The question, like any other, should be decided, not by personal preference or bias, but in the interests of a state wide constituency.

There are many questions of reform that are not always expedient. Prohibition is right in theory, but a failure in practice, because lacking the endorsement of public sentiment. The primary election law is a question of political reform, and however much merit it may contain, it will require the endorsement of public sentiment after it is born, to bring it to maturity.

There are questions that the law makers are called upon to consider. If, after taking the consensus of public opinion to the best of their ability, they decide that the time is ripe for the reform movement, their verdict will not be questioned. If it is discovered that a mistake has been made the court of public opinion, which is the final court, can very easily correct it later.

The question should have the most liberal discussion, both by the people and the press, the same as any other question that has to do with public morals. It should be discussed so candidly and impartially that no scars will be left, whatever the result may be, and this may be done if a spirit of fairness and concession is displayed on both sides.

Mr. Bryan has been criticised for not making his paper a daily. We are of the opinion he is to be thanked.

It looks as if the Boers were keeping an English boarding house instead of fighting English soldiers.

SAY CIRCULAR WAS IMPROPER

Evangelina Yale Davey Arrested by Boston Postal Officials.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19.—Evangelina Yale Davey, better known as "Prof. Yale," wife of Thomas A. Davey, who says he is an astrologer, has been arrested by federal officers on a warrant charging her with sending an obscene circuler through the United States mails. According to Prof. Towson, who has charge of the case for the postal authorities, "Prof. Yale" has done an enormous business with the young people of the country. The direct complaint came from Dr. F. Cecil Hurley, Tenn., regarding the character of circulars received in response to an advertisement of "Prof. Yale," which he answered. He denounced the printed matter inclosed as unfit for the mails. The inquiry led to surveillance of a number of so-called astrologers, who were doing a horoscope business through the mails. The postoffice inspectors say that the mail responses to advertisements came from every section of the union and most of the letters contained money.

TRAIN SAVED FROM DISASTER.

Burning Bridge Discovered in Time to Prevent a Wreck.

Pana, Ill., Jan. 19.—The north-bound Baltimore and Ohio fast train due here at 6 o'clock narrowly escaped disaster six miles east. From Pana to Towerhill the Big Four and Baltimore and Ohio tracks run parallel, and Big Four trainmen informed Baltimore and Ohio trainmen at Towerhill that the bridge crossing Midkiff slough, just west of that village, was burning. The wooden structure was entirely consumed. Whether it was the work of tramps or an attempt of men to wreck and rob is not known. Officers are at work on the case.

Wreck on Grand Trunk.

Norway, Me., Jan. 19.—A head-on collision between freight trains on the Grand Trunk railroad near Locks Mill resulted in the death of four men and serious injury of several others and four locomotives and twelve cars were demolished. Both trains were very heavy, each being drawn by two engines. The dead are:

PETER THOMPSON, engineer, Montreal.

W. C. OLIVER, brakeman, Bangor.

TWO UNKNOWN TRAMPS.

One of the trains had a large quantity of explosives on board. The cars took fire. Explosions scattered the embers in all directions and prevented effective work in putting out the fire.

WIRELESS TELEPHONY.

Two Young Men Claim to Have Solved the Problem.

Greenport, L. I., Jan. 19.—Forest Hawkins and Frank Hartley, young electricians at this place, have discovered, it is said, a practical method of telephoning without wires.

For a long time they have been experimenting and yesterday they made a public test. Hartley arranged his apparatus at this place and Hawkins had his put up at Shelter Island. The young men transmitted messages from the mainland to the island, three miles. The apparatus is said to be simple and ingenious.

ONE FIGHT DOES NOT END IT.

Cadet MacArthur Says Men May Be Called Out Second Time.

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Cadet Douglas MacArthur, who so strenuously denied having had convulsions or hysteria on the occasion of his being violently exercised during the summer encampment of 1899 at the West Point Military Academy, was called again by the congressional investigating committee when the inquiry was resumed. Young MacArthur is not a strong looking lad. He is pale and anything but robust and at times is troubled with a short nervous cough.

Congressman Wanger questioned the witness.

"When a cadet is called out and after a refusal to comply with the requirements of an upper-class man and he fights once does that settle it? I mean is he hazed or made to fight again?"

"It does not settle it, sir. They are hazed and may have to fight again. I know one who had to fight twice."

"Who is he?"

"Cadet Golley of my class, sir."

IT'S CHILD'S PLAY

To treat a woman for a disease year after year and give her no permanent relief. Yet that has been the case with scores of women who have "doctored" for year after year unhelped and unhealed, to find at last that a few bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription would have saved years of suffering and a great deal of money.

For the regulation of the periods, the stopping of disagreeable drains, the healing of inflammation and ulceration, and the cure of female weakness, there is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"About five years ago I had very poor health," writes Mrs. S. E. Whalen, of Holden, Johnson Co., Missouri. "After doctoring four years with our town doctors they gave me up; said they had done all they could. I had been confined to my bed half my time; the other half could hardly drag around. I had such pains in my back and abdomen I could not stand for more than a few minutes. My feet were cold or burning, and my periods came too often. The doctors said it was change of life, so as I had heard of Dr. Pierce's medicine, my husband got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' I took it and it helped me in some ways, so I went to my doctor and followed his advice. I commenced 'Favorite Prescription' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pellets,' as I was so constituted all the time and pills would weaken me so that I would have to go to bed. To the great surprise of everybody I got well, and when I met my friends they would say, 'We never thought you would be here now.' But I can say it was your medicine, which no doubt is the best in the world. Have had no use for doctors since I tried your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

Judge Smith handed the witness a list of names of the cadets, who, according to the several witnesses examined previously, had been engaged in fist fights.

"Can you add any to that list of names?"

"No, sir, I cannot," said MacArthur, after scanning the paper. He gave a similar answer when asked to add to the list of forms of hazing or exercising on which the committee has now fifty-nine methods recorded.

CREEK INDIANS ON RAMPAGE.

"Snake Band" Is Whipping Peaceful Members of Tribe.

Eufaula, Ind. T., Jan. 19.—Deputy Marshal Grant Johnson has brought the news that the disaffected Creek Indians, known as the "Snake band," are up in arms and are riding the country rifles in hand, whipping and maltreating peaceful Indians. Johnson ran across a band of fifty, headed by John Creek, yesterday, near Proctor.

Cloak Sale. MONDAY EVENING JAN. 21.

---AT---
PALACE RINK
This contest will be between the WEST END ---AND--- EAST SIDE teams. Game called at 8:30. Imperial band will play and no extra charge of admission will be asked.

The values offered are the talk of the town—many have taken advantage of the opportunity to secure a well made, well lined and a stylish coat at a very low price. At this five dollar figure are such good garments as oxford mixtures, black, kerseys, pebble and plain chevrons, all being silk lined and with the finish that you would expect to find in good garments. With the coming of spring there are many days when you cannot wear that fur coat. This sale offers the chance of a substitute at a price that is little short of ridiculous. Each day we add a few coats from the racks to the line at the five dollar price and if you have looked and not been suited come in again. You may find the one you want. To be thoroughly satisfied it might be well to look through the other stocks about town then come to headquarters.

HUSBAND FINDS HIS RUNAWAY WIFE IN JANESVILLE.

Mrs. C. M. Monahan Refuses to Return Home—Alleges Non Support and Cruelty as the Cause of Her Behavior—Mr. Monahan Will Go to Law Over the Matter.

A traveling salesman by the name of C. M. Monahan, from Goshen, Ind., arrived in the city last evening and after registering at the Hotel Myers, made inquiry as to where G. E. Luce and his mother resided.

He claimed that he had just returned from an extended business trip for the F. H. Earle Mfg. Co., of Plano, Ill., which took him as far south as Cuba and kept him away from home for three months. On his return home he found his house shut up, his wife missing and a lot of his clothes and valuable papers gone.

Discovered Her in Janesville. Among other things was his bank book and life insurance policies to the amount of twelve hundred dollars.

He immediately made inquiry as to where his wife had gone but for a time could find no trace of her. Finally he discovered that she had gone to Chicago to meet Mrs. J. A. Luce of Janesville and had come to this city with her and was still living with her.

He then came to this city and attempted to get an interview with her at Mrs. Luce's in the Waverly flats. He was informed that his wife did not care to see him and wanted nothing more to do with him. He informed her over the telephone that he was here to stay and that unless she made up her mind to go home with him he would make her trouble. His wife told him to go ahead and that he would find out that she had a few friends.

He claims that he has always furnished his wife a good home and that there is no reason why she should run away from home while he was away on his trip. He said that their relations had always been pleasant and that during the time he was away from home Mrs. Monahan drew $10 a week of his salary to pay her household expenses with. He was much worked up over the actions of his wife and said that he was in the matter to stay and that he intended to have the affair cleared up before he left town.

Mrs. Monahan's Statement. Mrs. Monahan was seen this morning at the house of Mrs. Luce by a Gazette reporter and was at first inclined not to say anything about the subject. She was not looking for notoriety and did not care to have anything in regard to the matter put in the paper, but when informed that the story was public property and of the statements made by her husband she gave her version of the affair.

She was a resident of Goshen, Ind., and had been married to Monahan about four years and with the exception of last summer she has worked and supported herself and most of the time has helped support her husband. She says that during three months of last summer she did not have to work and that during that time her husband allowed her $5 per week on which to live during the time that he was away on the road and at no time did she have $10 a week as claimed by her husband.

Not a Happy Married Life.

Mrs. Monahan claims that their married life has not been a happy one and that Monahan was addicted to the use of liquor and often came home when under its influence and abused her and at one time tried to do her great bodily harm. She stood his abuse as long as he was able and when he left on his trip last fall in which she claims that he never went farther south than Georgia, she left home and went to Chicago where she met Mrs. Luce who has known her since she was a young girl. She related her troubles to Mrs. Luce who immediately offered her a home with her if she would come to Janesville. This was fourteen weeks ago and during that time Mr. Monahan had been home three times and had never before attempted to make her any trouble. He could easily have found out where she had gone if he had taken the trouble to inquire.

Does Not Intend to Go Back.

The clothes and valuable papers that Monahan claims that she carried off with her were packed in a box with her clothes and left at Plano, Ill., and she has been informed that Mr. Monahan has the box with everything that belongs to him including a lot of things that are hers together with her gold watch.

Mrs. Monahan claims that her husband has not been injured in the least but if anyone has had an injustice done them she is the one. She says that she does not intend to go back with Monahan and will resist any attempts on his part to make her trouble.

She has told his abuse as long as she intends to and she intends to stay in this city with Mrs. Luce, who is alone the greater part of the time on account of her son being away on the road.

During these periods she is a companion for Mrs. Luce who otherwise would have to live in the flat alone. Monahan this morning secured the law firm of Pethers, Jeffris and Mount to look after his interest in this city.

AN EXHIBIT OF FINE PICTURES

About One Hundred Art Gems on Exhibition at the High School Today.

In the neighborhood of 100 pictures were on exhibition today in the reception rooms of the high school. They had been sent on approval by a Chicago art dealer and from them selections will be made by the art school for the embellishment of the city schools. They range in price from a small sum up to $20 or more and offer an opportunity which cannot be regarded other than as a rare boon to people of artistic tastes who live far removed from art centers.

Among the best known are Vedder's Lazarus, Bate's Homer, and the six Galahad by Schmalz, several by Corot and some by Millet. An extremely attractive picture is the imperial courier; another is the Story of the Missionary. The perfection of the coloring in the latter is the chief of its many charms. There are large carvings of Cicero, denouncing Cataline, Dante's dream, and the Blessed Damosel. Several madonnas and portraits of the handsome Stuart family are on exhibition.

Not the least to be admired and studied are the cathedral pictures. Interiors and exteriors, the ruins of the Colosseum, the Acropolis of Athens and several scenes in Venice and on the Tiber.

Among the pictures are engravings, photographs, photogravures, colored lithographs, posters and some not easily classified by the layman. One white horse eating carrots with two dogs in the foreground and two children passing the vegetables. It is wonderfully soft and beautiful.

Mrs. W. F. Bosworth was at the building this morning arranging the exhibit and explaining points unfamiliar to the visitors. The idea was to give the people of Janesville a treat with just enough of a fee attached to cover express charges. The visitors were numerous especially during the afternoon.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY AT FORT ATKINSON

This City Was Represented by a Delegation of Six—Social event of the Season.

This city was represented last evening at a most delightful dancing party held at Fort Atkinson under the auspices of the Imperial club. The event was the fifth annual ball given by the club and as usual it proved to be the social event of the season with Fort Atkinson people. The dance hall was tastefully decorated and presented a most inviting appearance. No less than a dozen comfortable couches lined the gracious room. In one corner a cozy place of rest was constructed by the liberal use of comfortable chairs, divans, Turkish rugs and banquet lamps. This corner was topped with a canopy made of fancy drapery. Bunting, club colors and American silk flags adorned the different portions of the hall.

Flowers and potted plants also added beauty to the scene. At ten o'clock the grand march took place participated in by about sixty couples. One hundred spectators occupied seats in the balcony. The dresses displayed reflected much credit upon the ladies present. Fort Atkinson is well supplied with handsome women and it is quite evident that they were out in full force last evening. Waltzes and two steps held full sway. Excellent music was furnished by the German orchestra. At midnight a tempting repast was served. At two o'clock the last waltz softly floated through the hall bringing to a close a pretty party that proved a decided success.

The dance committee knew their business. This committee was composed of young men who made it a special point to extend the hand of good-fellowship and to see that strangers were made to feel at home. This committee was composed of the following: S. D. Ogden, chairman; H. V. Curtis, A. R. Becker, E. J. Mack, William Sullivan and William Hansen. Those present from Janesville included Mrs. Leonard, Miss Racine Bostwick, Walter S. Fifield, Henry S. Cody, Robert M. Bostwick and William W. Watt.

A RURAL MAIL ROUTE TO PORTER

Evansville, Wis., Jan. 19.—A rural mail route will be established from here into the town of Porter within a short time. A government inspector of rural routes was in the city recently and the proposed route was inspected and a carrier and assistant were appointed.

There is some probability of a second route being established soon which will undoubtedly run from this city south into the towns of Magnolia and Center. The route that was proposed from Albany some time ago has been given up and on account of its abandonment this new route may be installed.

MRS. J. F. SWEENEY'S MUSICAL RECITAL

To Be Given at the Congregational Church Under Direction of Musical-Literary Society.

The piano recital to be given on Monday evening, January 28 at the Congregational church by Mrs. John Fuller Sweeney promises to be one of the most artistic musical entertainments known in this city for some time. It will be given under the auspices and direction of the Musical-Literary society which is doing valuable work in bringing to the knowledge of the average man and woman the finest compositions of the best musicians of the world. The recital will be complimentary to Mrs. Sweeney, the society and its friends. Admission will be by ticket but no fee will be attached.

The affair is under the direct management of a compliment committee who will leave nothing undone to bring it to a brilliantly successful issue. The committee on invitations consists of Mesdames W. T. Sherer, M. R. Stever, Christine Hawley and Prof. J. S. Taylor; the executive committee of Mrs. M. Menzies, Frank Smith and George G. Paris, who also constitutes the committee of arrangements.

A Chickering grand will be used for the recital. The program will include the composition of Bach, St. Saens, Beethoven, Chopin, Grigg, MacDonell, Henslet, Reubenstein and Liszt.

Mrs. Sweeney spent last year in Europe in the study of music and has not appeared publicly since her return. Those who will be so fortunate as to secure invitations may congratulate themselves on the musical treat in store for them. The complete program will be published later.

SENATE PASSES ARMY BILL.

President May Increase Force to 100,000 Men.

DETAILS OF THE NEW PLAN

The Measure Sent to Conference Between the Two Houses—The Army May Be Reduced July 1, to 20,000 Unless This Legislation Passes.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—By a vote of 43 to 23, the Senate passed the bill reorganizing the army. Briefly speaking, the regular army will consist of one Lieutenant General, six Major Generals, fifteen Brigadier Generals, the usual staff departments, fifteen regiments of cavalry, twelve regiments of artillery, thirty regiments of infantry, engineer, signal, and ordnance corps, a corps of chaplains, and a military academy, including its corps of cadets. The framework of the army remains the same, regardless of the size of the regiments. The total strength varies from 60,000 to 100,000, according to the discretion of the President. Under the bill passed by the Senate which agrees with that of the House in its general provisions, the United States army, in its regular establishment, will have a minimum of about 58,000 and a maximum of a little less than 100,000. According to the average basis of computation the army will consist of at least 12,045 cavalry, 18,220 artillery, 24,450 infantry, 1,234 engineers, and 2,245 miscellaneous organizations, making a total of 58,994. From this minimum the President may increase the strength of the fifteen cavalry regiments up to 18,525, of the thirty infantry regiments up to 55,980, making a total of 96,765 for the whole army, which is added to only slightly by some other provisions of the bill which have not yet been accurately figured out. Unless this legislation passes, the army will be reduced on July 1, 1901, to 20,000, but as the result of the action in the Senate the new army is certain to be constituted on a regular basis of not far from 100,000 men, including an infantry regiment in Porto Rico and a possible native force of 12,000 in the Philippines.

The measure was sent to conference between the two houses. Senators Hawley (Rep., Conn.), Proctor (Rep., Vt.) and Cockrell (Dem., Mo.) being appointed conferees on the part of the Senate. While party lines were drawn on the measure, four Democrats voted for it, Senators Lindsay (Ky.), McClaurin (S. C.), Morgan (Ala.) and Sullivan (Miss.). Senator Hoar (Mass.), who was detained at his home by illness, was paired against the bill with Senator Spooner of Wisconsin.

CARS CRASH ON BRIDGE.

Seven Persons Hurt and Two Women Believed to Be In River.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 19.—A west-bound car filled with passengers for Anderson, Elwood and points west and north on the Muncie, Anderson and Indianapolis Interurban Electric railway last night ran into the rear end of a disabled car standing on the high bridge that spans White river, two miles west of Chesterfield. The thirty passengers waiting on the disabled car saw the approaching car and thought it was coming to their relief. Suddenly the crash came in the darkness; the lights went out. Seven occupants of the disabled car were injured. John Rapperson, an Anderson iron-worker, and Aaron Mott of Muncie are seriously injured. Most of the others injured reside in Elwood. It is claimed that two women school teachers jumped

WOULD CARVE UP BOLIVIA.

Chile Makes Startling Proposition to Four Other Nations.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Information has been received in an official quarter in Washington that Chile recently submitted the astounding proposition to four other South American governments that Bolivia be partitioned among them. This proposition was promptly rejected by Peru, and the Lima government, as a further sign of its displeasure, has requested the Chilean government to recall its minister, Custodia Vicuña. The attitude of Brazil, Argentine and Paraguay cannot be learned, but there is no expectation, in view of the determined refusal of Peru, that steps will be taken in line with the Chilean proposal. Bolivia is a weak nation and could not singly resist an attack by the troops of any one of the nations named with the possible exception of Paraguay, much less the united force of several governments.

Arrest for Murder in 1889.

On Revive Whipping Post.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 19.—A bill introducing the whipping post in Indiana will be presented at the present session of the state legislature and urged for early passage. The measure will be introduced by Representative B. M. Neal of Noblesville.

The measure specifies a public whipping post for wife-beaters, men who insult women on the street or in public places, those who use obscene language in the presence of women and petty thieves, who, under the law, cannot be sent to the penitentiary. The proposed law will have the support of Senator Crumpacker and Representative Short of this county.

Mrs. Nation Goes Free.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 19.—The county attorney has dismissed the charge against Mrs. Carrie Nation. He says: "While intemperance is no excuse for crime, the mind of the defendant is much impaired and she labors under a delusion to such an extent as to be irresponsible. Further confinement in jail would not improve her condition of mind."

Burned at His Post.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Jan. 19.—The steamer City of Louisville of the Graham and Morton line was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock at her dock in this city. Watchman Charles Southworth was burned to death at his post at the pumps of the steamer, his body being charred beyond all recognition. The cause of fire is not yet known.

Plan to Colonize Mexico.

San Francisco, Jan. 19.—The Call says: "Back of a steamship company recently organized in this city with a capital of $12,500,000 is a plan to colonize Mexico with Oriental laborers. The promoters of the scheme, it is asserted, have obtained from the government of Mexico a vast concession."

Elopes on Eve of Wedding.

Nashville, Ill., Jan. 19.—On the eve of her marriage to Elmer Schroeder of this city, Miss Katharine Laster, a society belle of Pine Ridge, Ky., and was married in St. Louis. Miss Laster and Morris were lovers at college several years ago and carried on a correspondence until a year ago. Schroeder and Miss Laster were engaged for several months, and learning of the approaching marriage Morris came to claim the girl. He proposed an elopement and she consented. Schroeder is indignant over the affair and vows vengeance.

Got "Teddy" Up a Tree.

Meeker, Col., Jan. 19.—According to a messenger who has just come in, Col. Roosevelt's chair was vacant last night when the hunters at Keystone ranch gathered for supper. His party found him up a tree after he had been a prisoner for four hours. Under the tree were a half-dozen wolves that he had killed with his revolvers. The others were soon scattered by the dogs.

Passes Away in Almshouse.

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—Samuel H. Warwick, aged 70 years, inventor of a root beer, and whose wealth twelve years ago was estimated at over $1,000,000, died penniless in the hospital attached to the almshouse in this city and was buried in Camden, N. J., by a relative, who claimed the body.

Immigrant Inspector seized British ship at Waldron, Ireland, which had brought twenty-two Japanese contract laborers into United States.

Quinn Hertz Is Arrested.

Quinn Hertz, Jan. 19.—The Allan line steamer Corinthian, Capt. Henry, which left Halifax Jan. 7, for Queenstown and Liverpool, arrived here at 10 o'clock. Sigmund Hertz of New York city, whose extradition the United States authorities ask on charges of forgery, was on board with his wife. Hertz was arrested by three detectives. When charged with forgery Hertz replied that he knew nothing about it. He had given his name in the passenger list as "Henry Emden," and had described himself as a merchant. There is no accusation against the woman, but she declined to be separated from her husband, both being lodged for the night at the police barracks. Hertz will be brought before a magistrate.

Nervousness.

A wearing out of the nerves; a breaking down of the nerve-strength; an unrest; a weakness or exhaustion of the forces or energy that belong to the nervous system. The weak, the careworn, the melancholy, those with no appetite for food, or who have frequent headaches or nervous chills; the low-spirited and the depressed are on the verge of nervous prostration. Men and women who are easily excited, impatient, fidgety and unable to rest or sleep at night, should replenish the stores of nervous energy with the greatest of restoratives, DR. MILES' NERVINE.

"A cold, followed by menstrual derangement and hemorrhage of the lungs made me weak, run-down, bloodless and exhausted. I was so nervous that I could not sleep, my legs were always cold while my head was hot and aching. I seemed to be always in such a hurry; longed for food but could not sit long enough to eat. Failing to get relief from my family doctor, I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and slept soundly the first night. Two bottles cured me." Mrs. L. A. VOYLES, Lincoln, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Renews the wasted nerve-force and repairs the worn-out brain-cells as nothing else can, and is the best of all restoratives for nervous prostration.

A TRYING POSITION

Janesville Readers Will Appreciate This Advice.

A constant itching tries your patience. Nothing so annoying. Nothing so irritating as itching piles or eczema. To scratch the irritation makes it worse, to leave it alone means misery. Some citizens can tell you how to be free from these troubles. Read the following:

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "I tried about everything recommended for itching of the skin, but found nothing to give me relief until I struck Doan's Ointment at the People's drug store. I had an affection of the skin on my face caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamo. My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itching and healed up my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house, and I certainly recommend it to others in need of such a preparation."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Wilburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for U. S.

Remember the name, "Doan's," and take no other.

BRIEF BITS OF COUNTY NEWS

Union, Jan. 19.—We're getting scared over the close proximity of the smallpox and some of the little folks will have to bare their arms to the virus charged point.

There will be a chicken pie supper at the Baptist church next Friday night. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Mrs. E. P. Cogogn, formerly of Union, but now of Rockford, Ill., was smiling upon his old friends here last week.

Little Darryl Patterson fell upon the ice last Wednesday and for the time being gave the impression that his skull was fractured. Later developments indicated that the bruise was not serious.

Clark Richardson has sold his farm two miles west of here and contemplates locating in our immediate vicinity for the purpose of placing his children in the district school of Union.

Rev. E. B. Edmunds, state Sunday school missionary, will hold a Sunday school revival and institute at the Baptist church in Union on Monday January 21. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

LEYDEN.

Leyden, Jan. 19.—Leyden will soon be favored with a lumber yard, stock yard, coal and salt yard. Parties have been here looking over the location. The C. & N. W. Ry. Co. will put in scales and build a larger stock yard, so the farmers will not have to haul their produce eight to fifteen miles and will be benefited by the shrinkage. No time will be lost in going to and from town.

Mr. F. H. Beardsley, our genial operator, has been heard from. He is spending his well earned vacation at the home of his parents at Tomah. C. Hansen is now day operator and H. Gross of Merrimac, taps the brass lights.

AVON.

Avon, Jan. 19.—A number of Broadhead people tendered John Menor a birthday surprise recently.

Louise Foster has gone to Cuba, N. Y., to spend the balance of the winter.

Mr. Childs gave an address at the Avon ball last Wednesday afternoon to organize a branch of the Royal Neighbors. Mrs. Dr. Stevenson was also there to examine the candidates.

LANGUAGES BY PHONOGRAPH.

Phonographs are to be put to practical use in the study of foreign languages, where they seem to have found a useful place. Grammar and technicalities may be acquired without a teacher, but one cannot teach oneself pronunciation. Hence to the many obliged to learn a foreign language, without the aid of a teacher phonographic records of language lessons are the greatest help, as the machine can repeat the words over and over again until familiarity with the sounds is obtained.

The Thoughtful Wheat Weevil. It is remarkable, says F. S. Seales, that weevils never injure the germ of the grain, which therefore grows as well when it has served as a nest for this little pest as previously.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

ELECTRICITY IN MINING.

Magnetic Current Is Rapidly Replacing Steam and Compressed Air. The New York Evening Post says that electricity is rapidly replacing steam and compressed air in mines all over the country. One after the other is taking up that kind of power, and it seems as if within a short space of time most of the underground work would be carried on by electric force. There is no doubt of its cheapness for drills as compared with other kinds of power, and it certainly is much more convenient. To bring steam or compressed air to the heading of tunnels, sometimes many hundred feet underground, it has been necessary to build long pipes and to meet with delays through broken joints and many other accidents which are likely to happen to pipe lines. On the other hand, the electric power wires are flexible, do not require to be laid in any particular way and are always ready for use.

One of the objections to the use of electricity instead of compressed air might be overcome without much trouble. In using the high explosives in the heading of a long tunnel where there is no means of ventilation the pipe which furnishes the air for the drills is left open, and the gases from the explosion are quickly driven out of the tunnel so that the men can get to work again in a short space of time. This has always been one of the great advantages of this method of drilling. This result can be reached as well with electricity by building a big exhaust blower at the mouth of the tunnel, using the electricity to drive it, and clearing the tunnel of the noxious gases in even less time. Thus there would be a gain in time usually lost while waiting for the air to clear as well as in economy in running the drills.

In the Cripple Creek mining district in Colorado the electric drill is making more progress than in any other part of that mining belt. The Colorado Electric Power company, which has its plant at Canon City, has recently put electric hoisting engines in several mines and has made contracts for lighting and furnishing power to others. A lot of electric drills have been ordered by the company, and within 60 days it is expected that they will be in operation in some of the mines. It is declared that the new drills will not only permit a saving of at least 50 per cent in working cost, but will maintain a higher degree of efficiency. All points underground where the more cumbersome steam drill cannot reach the electric drill may be used with ease.

Maximite, a New High Explosive. For some time past the United States government has been conducting experiments at the Sandy Hook proving grounds upon high explosives suitable for use as a bursting charge for shells. One of the explosives tested with exceedingly favorable results is termed maximite. It is the invention of Mr. Hudson Maxim. An explosive to be capable of use as a bursting charge in a projectile from a high power gun must manifestly be highly insensitive to both heat and shock. The government requires also that the susceptibility of the explosive to chemical change shall be determined by subjecting it to a temperature of 165 degrees F., continued for a period of 15 minutes. It is stated that maximite may be ignited and will burn like a mass of asphalt, but without explosion. It may be stirred with a white hot iron rod or may even have molten cast iron poured upon it without producing explosion. To determine the resistance of the explosive to shock a small quantity is placed under the hammer of a drop test machine, and the hammer is let fall upon it from gradually increasing heights. If the material develops sufficient insensitiveness to shock, it is subjected to the crucial test of loading in a projectile, which is then fired through a nickel steel armor plate.

In the case of maximite a five inch shell was thus discharged. It passed through the plate and lodged in a sand butt behind, where it was recovered intact. It was then armed with a fuse and exploded, and the number of fragments is estimated at about 7,000. It will be obvious that the power of an explosive is well indicated by the extent to which it pulverizes the shell in which it is confined. In conducting these explosive tests small shells are exploded inside a steel chamber, while large ones are buried deeply in sand, and the fragments are recovered by sifting the sand. Maximite fuses at a temperature considerably below the boiling point of water. Its resistance to shock appears to be much greater than that of lyddite, which was used by the English in the South African campaign. Shells charged with lyddite are exploded by contact with armor. An explosive like maximite, therefore, which will stand such a shock without explosion, should be proof against the shock of firing a gun and hence safe from danger of premature explosion while in the bowl of the gun.—Engineering News.

Pompeii's Destroyer Active. A committee of scientific men who were appointed to investigate the matter state that an eruption of Mount Vesuvius may be expected at any time. It has been some time since there has been a dangerous outbreak. The experts in the observatory say that an eruption may occur at almost any time, but they are not ready to predict the strength of the eruption.

Wages in England. The annual report on the changes in rates of wages and hours of labor in Great Britain during the year 1900 has just been issued. The prosperity of the country was such that the percentage of the unemployed was the lowest recorded since 1890. The changes of wages last year aggregated a rise of $575,000 per week, an increase of $100,000 over the year 1899.

Zeppelin's Airship. More time, endeavor and money have undoubtedly been put into the Zeppelin airship than into any previous enterprise of this nature. It is 30 years since Count Zeppelin first turned his attention to the airship as an engine of war, and those who were making experiments in flight by means of aeroplanes were inclined to look upon him as a visionary.

MEN; BE STRONG!

You Can Be Cured of NERVOUS DEBILITY and LOST MANHOOD

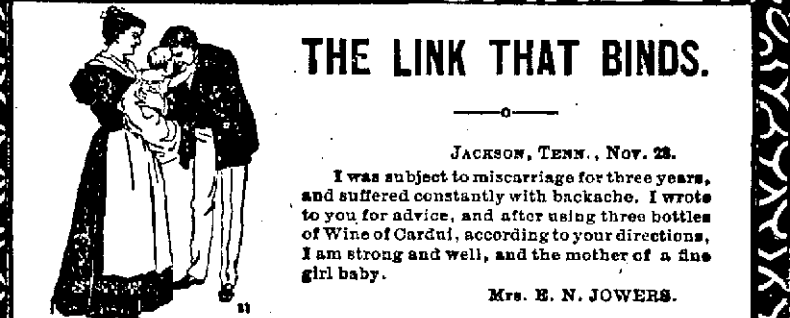

BY "CALTHOS"

Full 5 Days Treatment ABSOLUTELY FREE By Sealed Mail.

NO C. O. D. OR DEPOSIT SCHEME.

For years the cry has gone up from hundreds and thousands of men, young and old, for a remedy that would rid them of the terrible result of early follies or excesses, or of the overwork and worry that sap the physical vitality of men. The medical profession of this country seemed powerless to cope with the appalling and disastrous consequences and annoying weaknesses of men resulting from violation of Nature's laws. PROF. LABORDE'S WONDERFUL DISCOVERY. It remained for the eminent French authority, Prof. Jules Laborde, to conduct scientific inquiry into the cause and cure of Lost Vitality, Sexual Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Ejaculation, Impotency, Small Parts, and the world today acknowledges the supremacy of the wonderful remedy "CALTHOS." The Von Mohl Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, recognizing the commercial value of Prof. Laborde's discovery, secured the sole American rights for "CALTHOS," and through its agency thousands of men who suffered from sexual diseases and unfeeling nervous maladies have been restored to health and the vigor of perfect manhood. THE VON MOHL CO.'S REMARKABLE OFFER. We are now authorized by The Von Mohl Company, to announce that every man who sends simply his name and address will be supplied absolutely free by sealed mail with full treatment of "CALTHOS." This is no C. O. D. or Deposit Scheme, and there is positively no condition attached to the offer. You need not send details regarding your trouble. ## WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 23. I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby. MRS. E. N. JOWERS.

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles." Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.
